Quool du Bois Margot

This is a true German French fusion. His sire, L'Arc de Triomphe was born in Oldenburg by Landor S out of a Pilot mare, and his French dam is by Grand Veneur out of an Ibrahim mare. In 2007 he was crowned the Supreme Champion of 3 year old Selle Français Stallions at St Lô.

According to Arnaud Evain: "Quool du Bois Margot delivers the style and movement of his father with the character and calmness of his grandfather. He is a half-brother on his mother's side to many champions and an heir to one of the very best Selle Français bloodlines which has produced Olympic champions Joyau d'Or and Barbarian and other champions including Rox de la Touche. He has stamped his first generation of foals with his build and his movement.'

Competition results:

Quool Du Bois Margot was 3rd in 2006 in the French Championships for 2 yr olds, while in 2007 he reversed this and was crowned champion of the Selle Francais Stallions at St Lo.

He was finalist on the classic circuit as a 4 yr old, and followed this up in 2009, ridden by Stephanie Deleveau, he was crowned 5 yr old champion 'Elite' with 16 clear rounds.

Progeny:

Quool du Bois Margot's first crop of foals were born, and he has stamped them with his correctness, combined with the movement he possess himself.
